MASTERCARD SUPPLIER CODE
OF CONDUCT

The Mastercard Supplier Code of Conduct (the “Supplier Code”) documents the principles, guidelines and expectations for establishing and maintaining a business relationship with Mastercard (“Mastercard is committed to partnerships with Suppliers that share the Mastercard dedication to conducting business in a legal, ethical, and socially responsible manner.

As an organization engaging a global supply base, Mastercard understands that there are cultural differences among our Suppliers, however, the Supplier Code contains universal principles and it is expected that all Mastercard suppliers meet these standards.

The Supplier Code of Conduct applies to any employee, agent, or other representative of a company, corporation or other entity that provides any goods or services on behalf of, at the request of, or in connection with work completed for, Mastercard.

Compliance with this Supplier Code is subject to an audit at the discretion of Mastercard. Failure to comply with the Supplier Code may result in discontinuance of current and/or the prevention of future business relationships between Mastercard on the one hand and the Supplier and its affiliates on the other.

Suppliers are encouraged to reach out to their Global Supply Management contact with any questions pertaining to the Supplier Code or whenever there are questions related to the appropriateness of any activity connected to their supplier relationship with Mastercard and associated business conduct. In addition, reports of any ethically questionable behavior may be made using the Mastercard Ethics Hotline at 1-800-405-9318 in the United States; to access the Ethics Hotline from outside the United States, please refer to the access numbers listed in the Mastercard Code of Conduct, which is available at www.Mastercard.com. Complaints made on the Ethics Hotline may be made anonymously, or not.

Ethics
Suppliers must be committed to the highest standards of ethical conduct when dealing with workers, their suppliers, customers and other third parties.

Suppliers are required to conduct their business in a responsible and ethical manner and to exercise reasonable care and diligence to prevent any actions or conditions that could result in a conflict of interest. In order to comply with this Supplier Code, Suppliers must have high standards for corporate governance, carry out their business honestly and ethically, and operate in full compliance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations.
Suppliers must comply with all applicable anti-corruption laws and regulations in connection with their work for or on behalf of Mastercard. Corruption, extortion, embezzlement, bribery and kickbacks in any form are strictly prohibited.

In order to avoid conduct that creates a conflict of interest and/or other impropriety, Mastercard expressly discourages Suppliers from giving gifts, meals, entertainment, trips, payments and/or loans to Mastercard or to any Mastercard employee. Further, Suppliers shall refrain from performing any direct services on terms other than those available to the general public for any Mastercard employee which are outside of the realm of the services engaged by Mastercard. These and other issues pertaining to conflicts of interest are more fully described in the Mastercard Code of Conduct.

Management of Confidential Information

“Confidential Information” means any information related to the fact or substance of negotiations, the terms of any agreement between Mastercard and the Supplier, and also including, without limitation, all, or any part of, and originals or copies of, any information, in whatever form embodied that Mastercard has identified as confidential, and all information concerning Mastercard’s past, current, and planned products, services, fees, customer financial institutions, customer data, concepts, methodologies, research, business activities, marketing plans, technical and/or platform interfaces. Confidential Information does not include information which: (a) is now generally known to the public or becomes known to the public; provided, however, that it does not become publicly known through disclosure by the Supplier; (b) is possessed by the Supplier in written form prior to its disclosure by Mastercard; (c) is received by the Supplier lawfully and in good faith from a third party who has no obligation to Mastercard; or (d) is lawfully and independently developed or acquired by the Supplier without reliance in any way on the Confidential Information.

Suppliers may use Mastercard Confidential Information only for the purposes identified and directed by Mastercard and must report any actual or suspected violations to Mastercard. Confidential Information must not be copied or disclosed to any third party except as expressly permitted in writing by Mastercard.

Suppliers must safeguard Mastercard Confidential Information using the same standard they employ to safeguard their own information of like kind, but in no event less than a commercially reasonable standard of care. Suppliers will be responsible for any unauthorized use or disclosure of Mastercard Confidential Information by their employees, agents, and other representatives as well as any other entity receiving or receiving access to Mastercard Confidential Information from them.

The foregoing shall be in addition to any other confidentiality obligations that Suppliers may have pursuant to a contract or other agreement with Mastercard.
